16. Rules for charging commissions and fees

Chapter 1. General Provisions

- In justified, non-standard cases not provided for in the Table of Commissions and Fees, the Private Banking Department Director or his/her Deputy may, in consultation with the Customer, set another way of charging fees, including also charging of fees for products and services not specified herein, with the Customer's consent.
- Commissions and fees for services executed upon orders of other banks are charged in a mutually agreed amount.
- Fees and commissions can be paid by the Bank's Customers in cash or charged by debiting the account of the Account Holder on the basis of an agreement concluded.
- In the case of commissions on bank transfers based on FX rates, the FX rates binding at the moment of effecting the transfer order shall be applied.
- In the case of operations or fees that refer to FX rates, FX sell rate binding at the Bank at the moment of effecting the operation or on the day of charging such a fee by the Bank is applicable.
- In the case of any VISA/MasterCard cards issued by BNP Paribas Bank Polska S.A., the settlement currency for a given payment card is specified in the binding regulations relevant for such a card. For VISA cards, a currency conversion commission of 3% of the transaction value is added to all non-cash transactions and cash withdrawals carried out abroad. The commission is included in the transaction amount in PLN, which is presented on the statement, instead of being recorded as a separate item. In the case of MasterCard cards a Currency Conversion commission is not charged.
- Bank statements:
 - the rates specified in the Table (Part 3, item 3.2) shall apply to preparing and sending consolidated statements that include all accounts held by one Account Holder in any Bank's Branches,
 - if a Customer chooses the option that statements are generated and delivered separately for every Branch of the Bank where the Customer holds accounts, or separately for each account held, a monthly fee shall constitute a multiple of the base rate, depending on the number of statements generated,
 - if a change or changes of the frequency occurred in the course of a month (or in the event an account is opened for a new customer in the course of a month), the fee is computed in proportion to the time specific frequencies were binding in the course of the whole month in question.
- Capitalised terms and expressions not otherwise defined in the Table of Commissions and Fees, shall have the meaning ascribed to them in the Regulations regarding accounts and other services for private banking customers who are not consumers.

Chapter 2. Rules for charging commissions and fees regarding foreign currency operations

- Fees determined as fractions shall be charged in PLN for:
 - orders from PLN accounts, by debiting the payer's account with a percentage amount of the debit amount to the account resulting from the Currency Conversion of the order amount, at a current FX sell rate applicable at BNP Paribas Bank Polska

- S.A. with a reservation that for instructions placed via Internet Banking Systems, the ordered amount converted at the NBP mid-rate shall be the basis for calculating the commission amount.
- b. orders from FC accounts, by debiting the account of the payer with a percentage amount of the ordered amount after Currency Conversion at the NBP mid-rate,
 - c. FC cheques collection at accepting the cheque; the commission is a percentage of the cheque amount after Currency Conversion into PLN at the NBP mid-rate,
 - d. costs accrued by intermediary banks that participated in the order processing, if the said costs shall be covered by the payer. (NOTE: if the said costs are calculated in the currency other than the account currency, their actual amount shall be determined on the basis of the currently binding FX buy and sell rates of BNP Paribas Bank Polska S.A.; however, for orders placed via Internet Banking Systems, NBP mid rates are applicable).
2. In the case of operations on FC accounts effected in a currency other than the account's currency, the amount debited to the Customer's FC account is used as the basis for calculating the commission; however, for instructions placed via Internet Banking Systems - the NBP mid-rates are applicable to establish the order amount (and to calculate the commission).
 3. Regardless of commissions and fees of BNP Paribas Bank Polska S.A., commission and fees on account of costs calculated by intermediary banks participating in effecting the order which is not a PSD transaction under the Regulations regarding accounts and other services for private banking customers who are not consumers may be charged. Such receivables are charged either by debiting the Customer's account or by a respective decrease of the order or cheque amount.
 4. Amounts of PLN and foreign currency commissions charged shall be rounded off to the nearest hundredth
 5. No fee is being charged for foreign exchange transaction.

Chapter 3. Specific rules for charging selected fees and commissions

No.	Title	Time frames (*)
