Lack of collection of the fee within the above-indicated deadline shall not rule out the Bank’s right to charge the fee at a later date. The fee shall be collected subject to the provisions on the front-end fee.
 - (b) a front-end fee – payable in case of the Borrower’s resignation from the Credit after the Agreement had been concluded or following a failure to meet the criteria for making the Credit available as set forth in the Agreement within 12 months of conclusion of the Agreement. The Bank shall have the right to collect a fee in the amount corresponding to front-end fee if it summons the Borrower in writing to pay the said fee.  - (f) a commitment commission – calculated on the portion of the Credit or tranche of Credit made available but not utilized (in full or in part) in the amount set forth in the Agreement. The commission is charged for every day the Credit is not utilized, assuming that a year has 365 days, starting on the day the Credit is made available (in full or in part) until the last permissible day of its utilization. The commission is collected on the amount constituting a difference between the value of the Credit / Credit tranche specified in the agreement / value of the Credit indicated in the Borrower’s declaration (concerning the Overdraft) and the value of the Credit utilized as at the given period / day:
 - (i) in case of Revolving Credits and a Liability Limit Agreement - the commission shall be collected in monthly intervals on the last day of every month, and if it is not a Working Day, on the first Working Day following it;

The Bank may, once a year, change the value of the commission should at least one of the factors indicated in par. 16 of this section occur.

- (h) Other commissions and fees specified in the Agreement and the Table of commissions and fees.

13. Non-collection of any commission within the deadline does not release the Borrower from the obligation to pay it.

14. Paid commissions are not refundable should the granted Credit not be utilized.

15. Unless the Agreement states otherwise and subject to point 12 letter g above, all of the Borrower's bank accounts at the Bank shall be debited with all commissions, fees and costs of establishing, changing and releasing the collateral payable to the Bank under the Agreement. § 20. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

1. These Regulations constitute an integral part of the Agreement. In the event of any differences between the Regulations and the Agreement, the provisions of the Agreement shall prevail.

2. In the event of a temporary non-fulfilment by the Bank of any of the rights to which it is entitled under the Regulations, Agreement or agreement on collaterals, this in no case shall mean the Bank's waiver of the rights ensuing from such provision.
3. Any numbers of the accounts set forth in the Agreement may change in line with Bank decisions, of which the Borrower shall be informed in writing. Changes to account numbers do not constitute an amendment to the Agreement.
4. These Regulations have been prepared in the Polish language. If the Regulations are also prepared in English version, the Polish version shall prevail.
5. Should any of the provisions of the Regulations or Agreement or agreements on collateral cease to be valid, the remaining provisions shall remain binding for the Parties.
6. Should the Bank not perform any provision of the Agreement or Regulations, this shall not be taken to mean that the Bank has waived its rights under the provision in question.
7. Changes made by the Bank concerning par. 6 point. 8 do not require written form and may be effected by notifying the Borrower of their contents by means of a notice displayed at the Bank's registered office/branch.

§ 21 AMENDMENTS TO THE REGULATIONS

1. Should the Bank introduce new regulations in lieu of these Regulations or amend individual provisions of the Regulations, the Bank shall send the Borrower the new regulations or the text of the amended provisions thereof.
2. Unless, within 14 days, the Borrower provides the Bank with a written declaration that he does not accept the new regulations or amendments to the Regulations, the new regulations or amendments to the Regulations shall be deemed to have been accepted by the Borrower and are henceforth binding upon the Bank and the Borrower.
3. Should the Borrower not accept the new regulations or amended regulations, he may repay early the entire outstanding amount of the Credit, without an obligation to pay the commission discussed in Par. 6.12 letter c). Should the Borrower not repay the Credit earlier within one month of not accepting the new Regulations or change of the Regulations, the Bank may terminate the Agreement.
4. These Regulations come into force as of 9 November 2019.
